

LONDON MAKES A SURPRISE INVASION,
INDUSTRIAL EASTPlans Conference in Chicago
Today With Illinois
Republicans

THEN "DOWN EAST"

Nominee is Determined to Launch "Fighting Campaign"
Against "New Deal"

By International News Service
ABOARD THE LONDON SPECIAL,
July 11—On a surprise invasion of the Industrial east, Governor Alfred M.
Landon planned a conference in Chicago today with Illinois Republicans before racing "down East" to close the Maine campaign with a smacking attack tomorrow night on Roosevelt's economic policies.

The Republican nominee was determined to launch a "fighting campaign" against the New Deal, with his speech in Portland, Maine, tomorrow night.
One of his confidantes, former Governor Gifford Pinchot, of Pennsylvania, described it as a speech "with a punch in it."

Enroute east, Landon said:
"I am very glad to be on my way to contribute to the notable campaign which I believe will end the repudiation of the present national administration by the voters of Maine next Monday. I am confident that Maine, as in years past, will lead the way to a Republican victory in the nation, and a restoration of good government in Washington."

LANDON LEAD DROPS
SLIGHTLY IN POLLBallots Received From Nine States by Literary Digest

LEAD IS STILL 2 TO 1

Landon's lead over Roosevelt decreases to less than 2 to 1 in the second week's report of The Literary Digest's 10,000,000-ballot Presidential straw poll.

Landon is shown receiving 61,190
votes and Roosevelt 33,423 with Lemke trailing the two major candidates with 4,169 out of a total of 99,734 ballots reported.

Thomas is indicated receiving slightly over one-half of the balance of 1% of the total vote cast to date which is divided among the other four candidates.

Votes are now tallied from Indiana, Minnesota, Ohio, Oklahoma and Texas for the first time.

The balloting in Maine shows a decline percentagewise for Landon from more than 3 to 1 last week to a little over 2 to 1 this week.

New York continues to vote approximately the same the second week as it did the first, over 2 to 1 for Landon.

The Republican lead in Pennsylvania is noted as increasing as the volume of ballots reported from the Keystone state nearly trebles in the second week's tally.

The first returns from Texas show a lead of well over 4 to 1 for Roosevelt.

Oklahoma's first votes are meager
but give Roosevelt 712 votes to Landon's 618.

The early ballots from Ohio give Landon more than a 3 to 2 lead over Roosevelt with 3,293 votes marked for the Republican candidate to 2,193 ballots in favor of the Democratic nominee.

An addition of over 11,000 votes
from New Jersey increases Landon's last week lead of over 3 to 2 fractionally.

On the basis of an Electoral College division so far Landon would receive 155 votes to Roosevelt's 34.

An analysis of how the same voters voted in 1932 indicates that 5,648 of the 50,916 poll voters who voted originally for Hoover four years ago now intend to vote for Roosevelt, while 10,592 of the 34,668 poll voters who mark their ballots as voting for Roosevelt four years ago indicate they will vote for Landon in 1936.

Lemke receives his largest share of any state vote in Minnesota where his tally is nearly 9½% of the total there so far.

The Union candidate receives less than 5 per cent of Ohio's total poll vote and 0.5 per cent of Oklahoma's vote with his share ranging between these two ratios in the other six states from which ballots are reported.

The analysis of the past political preferences of the voters shows that Lemke is drawing his strength from the major parties at the ratio of approximately 1 to 10.

WPA WORKERS — ATTENTION!

(Morrisville Herald, September 3, 1936)

Some people assume that the relief worker belongs to Roosevelt and that he must vote for him in November.

First, the WPA worker is an American citizen and has a right to vote as he pleases and without intimidation.

Secondly, he does have a job, the government has provided him that. The purpose of his employment is not disputed; the reason for his work is to feed and clothe him through found work until such time as industry shall absorb him.

To this theory everyone agrees.

The facts to be faced, however, are that this Administration deliberately proposes undermining our government; it flaunts our constitutional rights, it has assumed legislative power and actually makes laws under bureaucratic dictation and through all its plans it has a studied purpose to overthrow our democratic government of checks and balances. To do this, Roosevelt attacks business and urges class hatred in a free land in his plan to make over America. Here then is the danger.

The relief worker is openly intimidated. Timid Republicans are advising their Republican friends who are working for the government for their bread and butter to stay away from Republican gatherings fearful of this all powerful Farley machine of cracking down on them.

And it is cracking down on them. Listen to this:

"Dear Mr. Stockham—

"I am rather disappointed that you cannot find

THE ZEPHYR COMES TO PORT — COMPLETES EPOCHAL OCEAN HOP

Cheery smiles wreathed the faces of the four-man crew of the Lufthansa tandem-engine, Diesel-powered, all-metal seaplane Zephyr, when the ship alighted on the water at the Port Washington Airport, after completing a trail-blazing 2,390-mile non-stop ocean hop, from its mother ship Schwabenland, off Horta, in the Azores. Fighting headwinds and sea storms the aircraft negotiated the distance in approximately 21 hours to mark a course over which air traffic between Europe and the United States may be eventually routed. In the picture, made at Port Washington, Rudolph A. John, Lufthansa representative in New York, who greeted them, is seen with the crew of the Zephyr: Baron K. A. Von Gablens, Captain Joachim Blankenburg; A. Eger and Willy Elbing (left to right).

Motorist Dies As Trolley
Crashes Into Machine

PERKASIE, Sept. 11—John Gulmantowicz, 44 years old, of Keelorsville, Bucks county, was instantly killed when his automobile was struck by a freight car of the Lehigh Valley Transit Company at the Lessig's school crossing in Perkasio, Wednesday afternoon.

Gulmantowicz was hurled from his car as it was carried 150 feet south of the crossing. He suffered a skull fracture, a fracture of the neck and a crushed chest, and was dead when picked up by the trolley crew. The automobile was crushed.

Witnesses say a warning bell at the crossing was ringing when Gulmantowicz drove his car on to the tracks directly in front of the trolley which was traveling south. The trolley was operated by Gordon Mickle, 45, of Allentown.

Coroner H. Clayton Moyer, of Bucks county and Patrolman W. A. Stabile, of the Doylestown highway patrol barracks, investigated the accident. Coroner Moyer said today he had not completed his investigation. He may not hold an inquest.

Gulmantowicz owned but did not operate the Keelorsville Hotel. He was employed as a machinist in a Pottstown plant and was on his way to work when killed. His widow, Anna, and two children reside on a farm near Pottstown.

MRS. HANNAH M. DURHAM

Pennsylvania Council of Republican Women, as she addressed representative Republican women of Bucks County in the Doylestown Country Club yesterday afternoon, at a tea given in her honor.

With forcefulness did Mrs. Durham speak to the several hundred who had gathered to hear her. She was high in her praise for Governor Alfred M. Landon, Republican candidate for the presidency, and in no uncertain terms did she deal with the "New Dealers" who work under the guise of Democrats.

Five hundred women filled the Doylestown Country Club on the occasion of a reception and tea tendered to two prominent Republican women.

Gathered for the function were committee-women, solicitors of the dollar participating certificate drive, and women actively interested in the welfare of the Republican party, the assemblage representing all parts of Bucks County.

The several hundred warmly greeted Mrs. Hannah M. Durham, Allentown, vice-president of the Pennsylvania Council of Republican Women; and Mrs. Sara S. McNeil, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania executive director of the Dollar Certificate Campaign, the two guests of honor. Mrs. Barclay H. Warburton, Philadelphia, president of the State Dollar Certificate Campaign, was unable to attend.

The presiding officer for the delightful affair, which proved a pleasing social event, and also most profitable from the standpoint of Republican progress, was Mrs. John W. Cooper, of "Woodlyn Farm," Pineville, president of the Bucks County Council of Republican Women.

In addition to presenting the two honored guest speakers, Mrs. Cooper introduced a number of others actively engaged in Republican affairs throughout Bucks County. Among these were:

Mrs. Clarence J. Buckman, Langhorne, vice chairman of the Republican committee of Bucks County, who extended greetings; C. Wilson Yeakel, Perkasie, and Thomas B. Stockham, Morrisville, candidates for re-election
as assemblymen from this district; A.
Harry Clayton, chairman of the Republican county committee; and Miss Eleanor D. Worthington, chairman of the Bucks County Dollar Certificate Campaign.

Mrs. Durham told of the seven conferences she has attended in which leading Republican women of the state have met with key Republican women throughout the Keystone state. "And I have fine reports to give you," she added. "There is only one issue in this campaign, and that issue is given in the first four words of the platform adopted at Harrisburg: 'America is in peril.'" The insidious propaganda broadcast by the opposition was forcefully brought to mind. "One of the

HIGHER EDUCATION

An enormous sum is spent annually on colleges and other higher schools of education, which have now opened for the year. What actual results, beneficial to the nation, are obtained to compensate parents and benefactors for all this vast expenditure?

It is complained that many young people go through such institutions, but that afterward they show no sign of college culture. Their contact for four years with the world's wisdom, has seemingly run off their minds as water runs off a duck's back.

While many of them would be better off in some more practical school, yet if a boy or girl really studies history and science well enough to pass in a good college, he has probably got something out of it. He may show no familiarity with books, but probably he is not so easily fooled by the shams of life. If he has learned to size up the bunk of shallow thinkers, his course was not wholly in vain.

DANCING FLAMES

As the cool nights of the autumn season comes on, the family traditionally used to gather about the dancing flames on the open hearth. Do they do so today, in these times when so much is going on in the average town, with so many pleasant things to take people out of the home?

Certainly some of the families do, as one hears people tell how much they enjoy the good old custom of sitting around a fire on the hearth, exchanging pleasant thoughts in their own circle, or with neighbors. If you could know what the home folks say under the firelight in these informal meetings, you could get an idea of the future of the nation.

Through those flickering embers, we can see the scenes of youth, the friends of former days. Memory grows sweet as reflection is thus promoted, and people value the home that has such a center of rest and thought.

"Beer consumers in three years have turned in more than a billion dollars to Federal, state and local treasuries," Louie, see what the taxpayers in the back room will have.

A new novel of 1,035 pages deals with the Civil War and reconstruction in the South—or "Anthony Adverse in Confederate Gray."

Major Bowes will always get along in this world. If he can look at the amateur at all, he murmurs, "My, she's pretty!"

Then there's the ballplaying type that never goes to town until some other club is 16 games in the lead and he can relax.

But those who squawk loudest for a better chance mean a better chance at their neighbor's savings.

POCKETBOOK FACTS ABOUT YOUR TAXES

You Pay More Every Day

Republican success in the November election unquestionably means a reversal of the trend in taxation.

Under President Roosevelt taxes have been steadily going up. Inevitably they will continue to go up unless the Roosevelt spending policies are abandoned. Democratic campaign statements that taxes may be eased mean nothing unless underlying policies are altered.

So long as the New Deal remains in power not only the Federal Government but the States and local Governments as well, will continue the orgy of extravagance. A Republican victory means a sharp curtailment at Washington, and the change in policy will be reflected in the States and local communities.

things that brought about the present crisis is the tremendous expenditure of public funds—just waste." The "cowardice of the method of taxation" came in for a goodly share of ire. "The government at Washington is spending $2 for each $1 taken in. So that extra dollar is a borrowed dollar." The method by which votes are secured through relief was referred to by the speaker, who also told of the wording to be seen upon a bill-board in the Pittsburgh area.

LOST—Government by the People
FOUND—The Way to Restore It
VOTE FOR LONDON

The European trend toward dictatorships was mentioned, with conditions in Italy, Germany, and Russia being cited. "I'm not an alarmist, but if this man Roosevelt goes back to Washington it will be an endorsement of such a thing here. . . . In Russia they have an Anti-God Commissar. Russia is endeavoring to take from the people such things that we hold dear in America."

Continuing Mrs. Durham said, "The practical side will count in this crisis. I want to bring the urge and the need for more votes."

Turning attention to the campaign in the ninth congressional district the Allentown woman had this to say: "There is no reason why Ted Gardner can't win in this district. He knows what real work is. There is nothing at all to prevent Ted Gardner from going over with a bang."

Referring to the national convention at Cleveland the speaker told of consideration given to a desirable nominee for the presidency. "We knew just what we wanted. We needed the opposite from what we've got in Washington. . . . Landon was elected to the governorship of Kansas in 1932, a year when the rest of the West went Democratic, and the same year Roosevelt was elected to the presidency. And in 1934 Landon carried Kansas by 60,000. The people of Kansas know and appreciate him. He put Kansas on a 'pay as you go' basis. He created a legislative council to speed legislation, this being made up of men of both parties; he kept the same head of the highway department which his predecessor had, thus taking the highway department out of politics. We're lucky to have such a candidate. And we are also lucky to have such a candidate as Colonel Frank Knox for vice-president."

The keynote of the campaign, concluded Mrs. Durham is "The Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Mrs. McNeil, who preceded Mrs. Durham, informed the assemblage that "This is no ordinary campaign. The campaigns are usually well defined—Republicans vs. Democrats. But in this campaign on the one side are the Republicans and on the other side the 'New Dealers'."

The Dollar Certificate Campaign was organized primarily for a house-to-house campaign, and for the purpose of interesting women heretofore uninterested, Mrs. McNeil told, "The women of our country know the foundations of the nation are in peril, and they want to protect it. The women also know that if they have $1 to spend, and spend $2, such cannot continue for long." The speaker advised the workers to first get the dollars when and where they can, and then to interest all visited in the work. "We want the sentiment of the voters in the community," Mrs. McNeil expressed her pleasure over the large group, many being forced to stand. "This is a grand meeting. I was never so inspired in my life."

Upon request the guest speaker told of her meeting with Governor Landon at West Middlesex.

In opening the meeting Mrs. Cooper invited questions for the speakers of the afternoon, and stressed for the benefit of all assembled that "this is a momentous campaign."

Miss Eleanor D. Worthington, who is in charge of the Dollar Certificate Campaign in this country, told that approximately $1,000 has been secured from the dollar campaign to date, in Bucks County. She paid high tribute to Mrs. George Garretson, Edgely, who has personally interviewed nearly 400 people, and of this group $9 previously not registered have been registered, and are now prepared to vote. The Edgely resident has been most active in presenting the cause to men and women of her section, stated Miss Worthington.

Mrs. Buckman extended cordial greetings, and stressed the importance of "putting over" the entire Republican ticket.

Personal knowledge of Theodore R. Gardner, candidate for United States congressmen from the Bucks-Lehigh district, was told of by representative Yeakel. "I'll back up all that Mrs. Durham and others here today have said about Ted Gardner. 'He's a fine man, and one who can ably represent us.'" In referring to the extra 14 weeks' session of the Pennsylvania legislature, called by Governor George H. Earle, Mr. Yeakel said that one good thing accomplished through such was the saving of $30,000,000 of the taxpayers' money. "And I'll gladly stay 28 weeks anytime if thereby that sum could be saved for the people of the state." He asked continued support from the voters.

Following representative Yeakel, was Mayor Thomas B. Stockham, Morrisville, who is also seeking re-election to the state assembly. "The issue in this campaign is a great one," was one of his opening remarks. "The people want to hold intact their religious responsibilities, and their confidence in a supreme Being." "The vicious thing that came into our body politic 3½ years ago has grown up, and today our constitution is at stake." Then he added "We can be thankful for our Republican senate in this state, and our own Republican Senator, however, for they have been instrumental in saving what has been saved in our state."

A Harry Clayton, chairman of the county committee, expressed his deep gratification at the attendance at the session. "The committee is going to put on an aggressive campaign, and I know you'll help us put over the entire ticket," was one of Mr. Clayton's statements.

The decorations for the attractive country club auditorium included a large bouquet of sun-flowers, and the color-tone of yellow was carried out in the tea-table decorations, napkins, etc.

In the receiving line at the tea meeting were: Mrs. Joseph Palmer, Langhorne, state committee-woman; Mrs. Buckman; Mrs. Cooper; Miss Worthington; Mrs. William J. Leattor, Doylestown; Mrs. C. Wilson Roberts, Southampton. Both Mrs. Leattor and Mrs. Roberts are heads of political activities committees.

The committee in charge of arrangements for yesterday's function had as its chairman Mrs. Leattor, her assistant being Mrs. J. Harry Hoffman. A number of women were members of this committee. Mrs. A. Russell Thomas and Mrs. W. Carlisle Hobensack were aided by a large group of women. In the serving of tasty sandwiches, nut bread, tea, punch, candy and salted nuts.

The large gathering eagerly received the miniature sun-flowers, elephants, and literature presented at the afternoon affair, and expressed pleasure and gratification of the splendid addresses and social hour.

for more work at Washington and then he becomes a credited agent.

Mr. Reynolds also discussed the fingerprint files at Washington. He said that 4,000 finger prints are received each day. At present there are some 6,000,000 prints in the files. The classification of the prints was also discussed by the Federal Agent.

The department at Washington not only has finger print records for criminals but also for private citizens. These latter records are used for purposes of identification. Mr. Reynolds explained the advantage of this by the following illustration: Last year in a hurricane in Florida some 30 people were killed, all means of identification being lost. But six of these unfortunate had their finger prints recorded in Washington and they were identified and their people notified. The others were piled in a heap, gasoline was poured over them and set afire. Their families never knew what happened to them. The Bureau will take these civilian prints free of charge and there are now about 150,000 of these prints on file.

"In case of a kidnapping just call National 7-11-7," said Mr. Reynolds. Speaking further of the costs of the operation of the Department Mr. Reynolds said that in 1933 it cost about $4,000,000 to operate the department and that $38,000,000 worth of goods was recovered.

"The most dangerous criminal is the young and inexperienced one," the speaker stated. He further pointed out that most criminals have not gone beyond the eighth grade in school. The total cost to each taxpayer during a year is $100, and there is a serious crime committed every 20 seconds in the United States.

Preceding the featured talk by Mr. Reynolds, the president of the Association, Paul Forster, announced a tentative program for this year.

The minor details for the program are not yet completed but it is obvious that the selection of the executives has been well made.

The chairmen of the committees appointed include: Johnston Hetherington, entertainment; Thomas A. Coles, publicity; Mr. Pope, membership; and Dr. Frank Lehman, prizes.

A part of the business meeting was also given to a discussion of the men's "gym" team. Because of the outstanding success of the work last year the class plans to meet once a week. Dues will be decided by members of the group, the money earned to be employed to buy "gym" equipment at the end of the season. Warren Woodruff was appointed the head of the movement. He has made an earnest appeal to all persons interested in this work to communicate with him.

a position where I can 'fit in,' but no doubt you did the best you could, and I am grateful for the interest taken.

"Also wish you the best of luck at the coming election, and am sorry I cannot get out openly and work for you and Gardner. That would be impossible, holding a WPA job.

"Very truly yours,"

This is signed by a citizen of Bucks County. Imagine such a state in free America. It calls for brave hearts to combat this. We are facing a crisis.

Are we going to let Roosevelt supplant our institution with those of a God-less Europe?

Bolshevism, Nazism and Fascism are all alike in their purpose. A dictator rules the lives of these subjects and God is driven from the land.

Sixteen Russian patriots went to their death the other day because they plotted against this despotism. A whole society of Religious Monks were marched to their execution last week by the Reds in Spain, Christian martyrs, singing hymns.

It is said that Professor Frankfurter is a professed Red. He plots the Administration's course.

Let's mince no words. "By their deeds shall ye know them."

In our communities we know an honest and truthful man and trust him. But a liar we never can trust. This administration has lied to us ever since March 4, 1933. Can we trust them? They plan Communism in "America made over."

Then the WPA worker, as an American citizen must not let them tie his hands. He will lose everything, his children will have no place other than slavery under a dictatorship.

Is the WPA-er going to be bullied?

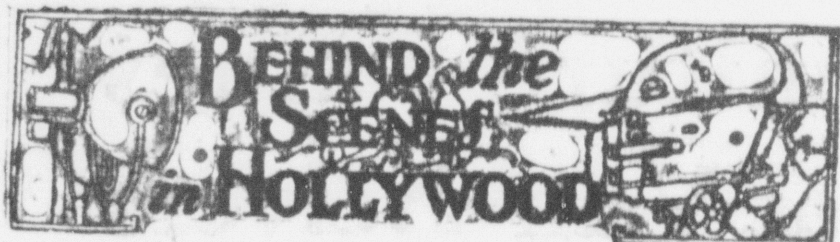

These are serious days. Our liberties are at stake.

Senator Robinson says that the Republican Party is preaching a policy of fear. Remember some patriotic Democrats started to preach it before this campaign got under way. We are fearful of what has happened in Europe happening here. We have a right to be afraid.

Let's face the issue at the ballot box before it's too late when we may face a New Deal firing squad.

God forbid that our churches shall be burned and our people martyred as those in Europe.

As Mr. Landon says, "Let's do it the American way."

HOLLYWOOD—A movie star's vacation is supposed to be a thing of luxury. Even Bruce Cabot's pals will be amazed to hear that he plans to spend his holiday working as a mechanic in an Indianapolis automobile factory. It sounds like a publicity story, but Bruce vows to us it's true. He has finished his R-K-O picture, "The Egg Game," and he and Adrienne Ames will leave here on the 20th, driving across the country to Indianapolis, where Bruce begins his self-imposed life as a laboring man. He'll work from nine to five, like all the other employees, and will learn what makes the wheels go around in his $15,000 roadster.

It's it comes under the head of making a life-long ambition.

All those weird noises at the M. C. M. studio are Joan Crawford bringing people out of the way of her cycle. She has six different makers on the handlebars when she wants anybody to get over, she goes right down the line.

In all, the hika has 17 accessories.

Labor Day was no vacation for Irving Thalberg, Hunt Stromberg, Harpo and Chico Marx and Sam Wood. They went to Del Monte, but only to find a quiet place for story conferences on "A Day at the Race Track."

Groucho refused to accompany the party.

"I'm going downstairs to play Mrs. Marx for the ping pong championship of the world," said the comedian. "The meals here are very good, too."

You Asked Me and I'm Telling You! Given Taylor, Rochester, Katherine De Mille went east, like she said she would, but Hollywood didn't let her stay there. She is now under contract to Twentieth Century-Fox and will play in the picture, "Banjo on My Knee."

Funny experience of Gail Patrick's in a Hollywood restaurant the other night. Leaving, she forgot her new fall coat, but remembered it a few minutes later and came back. The coat was gone and nobody knew anything about it. On a hunch, Gail went into the ladies' powder room, and there, on a lounge, was her coat with a woman's purse on top of it. She picked up the coat and looked around her. There were a dozen women in the room, but none made a move to stop her, or to claim the purse. Still doing a first degree burn, Gail swept out of the place and on her way.

What are the oldest pair of spectacles in existence? Harold Lloyd has just been given a pair that have been traced back to Don Jose Fernandez, a gentleman who lived in Madrid 150 years ago. The donor, Dr. O. M. Naranjo, thinks the brass-rimmed relics really are older, though, of course, not among the first ever made, as spectacles go back for centuries.

Here and There in Hollywood: Erskine Gwynne has just been made an officer of the French academy, which means he gets to wear a medal with a mauve ribbon. . . . Jean Harlow's mother, Mrs. Bello, has recovered enough from her illness to watch a couple of swordfish in Catalina waters these last few weeks. . . . Carol Ann Beery is now six years old. Her birthday present from Wallie was a pony. . . . Mary Boland writes she has bought Afghan hounds and will start a kennel. Which makes her a rival to her screen partner, Charles Ruggles. . . . A nice wire from Tony Martin informs us it was Alice Faye and not Alice White, whom he escorted to the Tracadero the other evening. . . . Fred MacMurray told an interviewer that he found no fish in Oregon, so H. S. Carter, of Salem, has just air expressed the actor a large salmon, with the suggestion that maybe Fred didn't know how to catch the big ones.

Today's Puzzle: What rising starlet is in bad because of her democratic preference for a third assistant director?

TELLS OF TRAINING FOR ALL-AROUND ATHLETE

DENVER, Sept. 11.—(INS)—Charlotte Edwards, a pretty 21-year-old school teacher of Sterling, Colo., speaks with authority on the regimen that made the greatest all-around athlete of an ambitious Colorado country boy.

Miss Edwards, who graduated from the Colorado State college at Fort Collins and signed a contract to teach Spanish and home economics in the Fountain, Colo., high school, is the fiancée of Glenn Morris, winner of the grueling decathlon competition at the recent Olympic games in Berlin.

"I majored in home economics at school, so I knew just what Glenn needed when he began to train for the Olympics last summer," Miss Edwards said on a visit here. "He first thought of trying for them when he went to the games in California in 1932. "Nobody but myself gave him much encouragement. I knew he could win. We had a workout for two hours every day no matter what the weather was. I supervised his diet. Sometimes I was able to cook for him and other times the landlady at his boarding house prepared the menus I prescribed.

"The menu always started with tomato or fruit juice. He had a raw vegetable salad and cooked green vegetables and meat twice a day, because he needed it for strength.

"He could have steak or chicken, but no pork or other fatty meats. No gravy, of course, and no potatoes or white breads. No cake or pie, either.

"He ate whole wheat bread and custards, jello or stewed fruits for dessert. Sometimes, if things were going very well, he could have a little ice cream.

"The liquids were confined to water, and, infrequently, a little skimmed milk.

"Glenn lost 16 pounds, and so did I. But I never thought until just now that it was probably the diet that did it."

Miss Edwards was at the track-side daily.

"I would start him on his distance runs, then dash across the field and shout to him, after he had rounded the turn, the time he was making," she said. "Then I would run back across the field to see how he finished.

"I used to have to stand about half way down the track when he was running the 100-meter dash so I could be somewhere near the finish line when he came in.

"I watched him form in the javelin and discus and helped him correct faults by telling him how he looked while throwing.

"Training didn't end on the field of course.

"We gave up dances last winter. Glenn took me home at 9.30 every night so he could get home to bed by 10."

A statement by Morris in Berlin to the effect that he and Miss Edwards were to be married in September, came as a surprise to her.

"We hadn't really set any date," she said. "We were going to wait and see how he came out over there."

KEEP LAMPS CLEAN IN ORDER TO SECURE ONLY BEST LIGHTING

By Rhandena A. Armstrong
(Home Economics Representative)

We do not expect to see things clearly through dirty windows, nor through our glasses when they become dirty. Neither should we expect to get as much light from a lamp which has a dirty chimney, a dusty bulb or shade.

It should be as much of the routine work of the day to clean or dust the lights as to clean any other furnishings of the house. Chimneys of oil lamps should be washed thoroughly then dried and polished. Lamp bulbs may be dusted as you would other objects and should be washed frequently. They may be washed as any glass dish only be sure the bulb is not hot. Hold the metal screen end in your hand, wash and dry, making sure the bulb, especially the metal part, is dry before replacing in the socket.

SUNDAY DINNER

Suggestions

By ANN PAGE

SPECIAL preserves and relishes for gifts and party occasions may well be made at this season when many fruits and vegetables are available at reasonable cost. With schools opening and fall business schedules going into effect, even greater care must be exercised by the housewife in feeding her family. Dairy products, fruits and vegetables help to make up for decreased exposure to fresh air and sunshine.

Beef and lamb chops are still the best meat values though they, together with fresh pork and veal, are higher. The seasonal upward trend of egg prices continues although they are cheaper than they were a year ago, particularly the pullet size. Here are three menus planned for different budget levels.

Low Cost Dinner
Beef and Vegetable Pot Pie with Biscuit Crust
Sliced Tomatoes
Bread and Butter
Jellied Fruits
Tea or Coffee Milk

Medium Cost Dinner
Chicken Fricassee with Dumplings
Sweet Potatoes
Green Beans
Bread and Butter
Fresh Prune Puff Pudding
Tea or Coffee Milk

Very Special Dinner
Fruit Cup
Acorn Squash
Cauliflower au Gratin
Stuffed Tomato Salad
Bread and Butter
New Apple Pie
Coffee Cheese

Shades may be cleaned easily. Metal or glass shades may be washed. Plain parchment shades can be dusted off then wiped with a damp cloth. Fabric, pleated parchment and paper materials are best dusted with a dry, soft, bristle brush.

If plain fabric or silk shades are of washable material they may be washed. Before attempting the process be sure any metallic bindings or trimmings are removed. Some may be washable but if they are glued to the shade instead of sewed, they will come off in the washing. If you decide the shade can be washed, dip it up and down in a lukewarm mild soap solution. Rinse several times in lukewarm water and place the shade on a support where it can dry quickly to prevent the frame from rusting.

When cleaning lamps do any renovation necessary. Replace old frayed cords with new ones to avoid lights flickering when the cord is jarred and above all for prevention of burns or fires.

approximately four Democratic to one Republican voter of 1932.

"The Literary Digest's Presidential Poll of more than 10,000,000 voters swings into its third week," the magazine states in its column.

"It now shows the original handful of 24,000-odd ballots quadrupled to 99,734. It shows preliminary returns in scattered sections of five new states, as the tabulators dip below the Mason and Dixon Line to size up two states nominally heavily Democratic—Texas and Oklahoma.

"It shows Governor Landon leading in three Mid-Western farm states—Ohio, Minnesota and Indiana—on early returns. And it shows President Roosevelt whittling his opponent's first returns margin of more than 2 to 1 in the original four states—New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Maine—to slightly under 2 to 1.

"Will the New Deal leader continue to close the gap, as tens of thousands of secret post-card ballots swell the flood of incoming returns, this week and every week until November? Will the man in the White House reach and pass the man in Topeka, Kansas, at the half-million mark—the million-mark?

"Only the final results can tell, but here is what happened in Maine's column from the first week to the second: From a lead of 1,831 to 522 (more than 3 to 1), the Landon margin dropped to 4,826 to 2,179 (only a little more than 2 to 1).

"That change in political fortune amply illustrates what The Literary Digest means by its warning to the public: These are only the scattering early returns; the leadership may shift again and again during the progress of the poll.

"First returns from Minnesota give Landon 8,620; Roosevelt, 5,939. Does that mean that Minnesota will go Republican? Not necessarily, for it must be remembered that these returns are far from final. And there is another factor: Lemke. The state gives Lemke 1,544 in first returns—the largest vote he had received in any state, by far. And 1,137 of those 1,544 had voted for Roosevelt in 1932; only 207 for Hoover. Will the Lemke vote be a sufficient factor to defeat the Democrats in Minnesota?

"Interesting, too, are the first reactions from Ohio—half-agricultural, half-industrial, half-east, half-west.

For Landon, 3,293; for Roosevelt, 2,193; for Lemke, 271. A little better than 2 to 1 for the Kansan, to start.

"The Texas vote is small—930 for Roosevelt, 185 for Landon. Oklahoma, the only other state thus far in the President's column, gives him 712 to Landon's 618.

"Indiana turns in 2,542 Republican votes against 1,690 for the New Deal. "Perhaps most interesting of all are the supplementary returns from the other three states canvassed in the first figures—New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

"In the first two states, the Republican standard bearer just about managed to hold his earlier margin of superiority. The New York totals jumped from 5,931 against 2,724 to 16,715 against 7,194—still a trifle better than 2 to 1. In New Jersey, the totals rose from 2,660 against 1,621 to 9,402 against 5,733—a slight drop in percentage for Landon.

"But in Pennsylvania where New Deal leaders professed to feel assured that Governor Earle's popularity, plus John L. Lewis's rallying of the miners' vote to the President, would put

CARDINALS FAVORED TO WIN RED AND GRAY GAME

(By Louis Tomlinson)

Coach Bill Dougherty will get a chance to review his "recruits" whom he will depend upon for a victory or two from his "gloomy" prospects for the rapidly approaching season, when his squad will battle it out for honors among themselves in their first scrimmage of the year—the annual Red and Gray game.

The boys always look forward to the yearly tussle with great enthusiasm as it is their first opportunity to show their "stuff" to the coach. And they are talking it up with plenty of emotion with both sides already predicting a victory. One telling the lads on the opposite sides just what they are going to do when he tries to come through his territory. This has stirred up much rivalry on both sides.

Coach will emphasize speed and deception more than power, since the team is light, while at the same time facing the most difficult schedule ever attempted by a local team.

This battle, the fifth annual Red and Gray classic, is as usual a battle between the backs and line men, with backs given the slight edge in this writer's mind. The Red team not only has the advantage in having the ace backs, but are greatly aided by Bill Mignoni, first-string center; and Carm Gullatto and Francis O'Boyle, both husky, capable tackles; but they also have the advantage in punting, passing, speed, deception and leadership.

The Red team will have Danny Di Midio to do the punting, while "Bud" Collier will do likewise for the Gray eleven, with Di Midio given the edge. They also possess the speed demon in Shorty Phillips who may tally the winning touchdown should he get away. Finally, they have the best passer in Harry Barouth.

At the same time the Grays will be out for revenge for past defeats. And with such men as Carnvale, White, Hinman, Proffy, Vanzant and Carm Mignoni in the line the Reds will be facing a stone wall, which means that the Reds will probably take to the air as their main offensive power.

Neither team has scored more than one touchdown in either of the four previous games, showing the closeness and keen rivalry on both sides. The preceding games resulted in two wins for the Reds as against one for the Grays, with one tie. The scores are:

1932	Reds, 6; Grays, 0
1933	Grays, 7; Reds, 6
1934	Reds, 6; Grays, 0
1935	Reds, 0; Grays, 0
1936	Reds, 7; Grays, 7

The Red team has scored 18 points to 7 for the Gray team.

The line-ups are:

RED	positions	GRAY
Louder	left end	Carnvale

JOE SANKEY TO BOX DONAHUE AT ST. ANN'S

Matchmaker Patsey Moffo last night announced that he has signed the Middle Atlantic A. A. U. 160 pound champion, Joe Sankey, Germantown Boys' Club, for a return bout with Dick Donahue, Agona, for the St. Ann's Athletic Association amateur boxing show which will take place next Monday night in the Saints' arena.

Last night in the Croydon Arena, Sankey scored a knockout over Donahue, after the latter led most of the fight. However, Donahue expressed a desire for a return match so Moffo signed them.

This is only one bout of an all-star card being arranged by Moffo. In the feature bout, Moffo is trying to arrange Vince Della, local ace, with Happy Riddle, Sun Village, Chester.

Trade Winds Blow Nats Good Luck

By BURNLEY

While the wealthy Thomas Yawkey spends millions in a futile effort to build a pennant contender at Boston, the canny Clark Griffith, rightly dubbed the "Old Fox" by baseball scribes, achieves successful results without spending a nickel, solely by his genius for shrewd trading.

The foxy Griff scored a ten-strike when he secured Ben Chapman from the Yanks in exchange for another outfielder, "Jake" Powell. Powell has failed to show much for Joe McCarthy, while the speedy Chapman has cast aside his temperamental spells and is playing his head off as a Senator.

Another trade with the Yanks last winter again resulted in the Nats' master mind gaining the edge. Washington got Jim DeShong and Jesse Hill in exchange for Bump Hadley and Roy Johnson. DeShong, rated as a bust with the Yanks, blossomed out as Griffith's ace hurler in Washington, while Hill has proven a valuable addition to the Nats' outfield.

DeShong has taken keen delight in handcuuffing his former team-mates, the league-leading Yanks; twice stopping the McCarthy men after they had chalked up winning streaks of seven straight.

PLEASANTVILLE NINE TO PLAY "FARMERS"

Manager Landreth has scheduled another star attraction for opponents for Landreth Seeds this Sunday at Landreth Ball Park, Pleasantville, who at present are tied with Kensington for the championship of the Philadelphia League, will be here. Pleasantville has won 20 and lost eight games in the strongest semi-pro league in the city. Several weeks ago the Farmers lost a close game to them on their home grounds by a 6-5 score and the Bristol manager is anxious to meet them again to atone for this defeat.

Some of the outstanding players of the League are on the Pleasantville team. Wooley, who covers second base, is leading the hitters with 77 bingles, a league record. Miller, their shortstop, will probably be in faster company. Effinger, captain of the University of Pennsylvania team, covers center field; Schaeffer or Cummings, right field; Cielesz, left field; Harwi, catcher, who appeared here with the Penn. A. C.; McMillan, first base; Bauman, third base; Lemberry, catcher; Broshear, third base; pitchers, Diseuroth, Cramer, Baines, are some of the other members of the team.

The game will commence at 3.15.

TWILIGHT SERIES CONTINUES TOMORROW

With the series standing two to one, the fourth game of the playoff games between the Hibernians and the Odd Fellows to determine the championship of the Bristol Twilight League will be played tomorrow afternoon on Landreth's diamond, starting at three o'clock.

The Hibs broke into the win column last week when in the ninth frame, Billy Thompson singled to score two runners and break a 1-1 deadlock. The tilt was a heart-breaker for Jake Praul to lose but he was out-pitched by Eddie Sullivan, orthodox twirler of the Corson streets.

Manager McDevitt again intends to send Sullivan to the mound against the Oddies while the Odd Fellows' manager, Bob Sutton, will use Jake Praul or Milt Jones. A victory for the Hibs even the series and a fifth game will be necessary.

The teams are playing on a winner-take-all basis and quite a bit of rivalry has been stirred up. However, if a fifth game is necessary, the receipts of this fray will go into the league treasury.
